

Are you an emerging rehabilitation research leader?

Apply now to receive a $6,000 stipend so you can appoint a student to work with you over the 2019/20 summer period to advance your research programme.

Applicants must:

- be no more than 5 years post-PhD
- be working in New Zealand over the award period
- be able to demonstrate they are on a research trajectory and that the award would support them to advance their research programme
- be an NZRA financial member (annual membership fee is $25)

Applications will be independently scored by a sub-committee formed by the NZRA executive. Scores will be based on:

1. Scientific excellence
2. Contribution to rehabilitation knowledge
3. Leadership potential
4. Significance of the award to research career advancement

Application and award process:

- The application form can be downloaded from the NZRA website <http://www.rehabilitation.org.nz/>
- Email your application by 4pm, Monday 08 July to president@rehabilitation.org.nz
- Applicants will be advised of the outcome by Monday 29 July.
- Evidence of ethics approval (if applicable) must be provided before funds will be released.
- Award recipients will be required to meet the following obligations:
  - provide the NZRA with a photo, brief bio, lay summary of the intended work to profile the recipient on the NZRA website at the time of award
  - submit a copy of the final project report completed by the student
  - provide a brief overview of findings on completion in a format that would be appropriate for publication on the NZRA website, including an outline of their future plans as an emerging rehabilitation leader
